

Jean Tong, Lead Organizer, UFCW Local 770

As an organizer with the United Food and Commercial Workers Union Local 770, Jean Tong works in strategic campaigns to create and safeguard good jobs in grocery markets, retail drug stores, food processing, meatpacking and the cannabis industries. Ms. Tong envisioned and carried out some of the first set of workplace standards in the emerging cannabis industry. Within her role, she has had the opportunity to bring community organizations, students, government agencies and other workers organizations together to build a strong and unified movement for social justice and equity.
